Hanged Himself—Flooded with Flour—Duty on Pine Logs.

(Special to THE TIMES.)

Halifax, Nov. 29—The Dominion steamer Vancouver has been off the coast since Sunday waiting for the weather to moderate and clear. Capt. Lindahl reports that the gale of Sunday and Monday has been terribly violent, the worst experienced for ten years. The Vancouver's decks were continually swept by the storm and the ship tossed by the sea, but no damage was sustained. Since the arrival of the Vancouver with this report of the severity of the storm grave fears are entertained by many for the safety of the schooner Emperor, which was due here on Monday morning.

Port Arthur, Nov. 29—The coroner's jury in the Jarvis murder case brought in a verdict of wilful murder. The murderer was yesterday seen at Silver mountain and again this morning at Beaver. He had his moustache cut off and hair cropped. Four special constables started in hot pursuit.

EASTERN PROVINCES.

Burned to Death—Minneapolis Flour in Ontario, Etc.

(Special to THE TIMES.)

Montreal, Nov. 29—Local grain dealers are considerably discouraged owing to the discriminating rates against Manitoba, which the Canadian Pacific Railway has been giving over their "Soo" route. The Minneapolis mills have flooded Eastern Canada with flour enough to last four months.

Quebec, Nov. 29—Great interest is being taken in the Beauce gold fields and considerable quantities of land in the vicinity of the mines, as well as mine rights, are changing hands.

Ottawa, Nov. 29—Lumbermen are now seeing they made a mistake in pressing the Government to raise the duty on pine logs from $2 to $3 per M, as a strong effort will be made by Michigan lumbermen to induce the U. S. Congress to retaliate by increasing the import duty on sawn lumber. One effect will be to depreciate the value of timber limits.

Sarnia, Nov. 29—The Alexander House, a large hotel on Main street, caught fire to-night and was totally destroyed. All the guests and employees got out and saved their personal effects.

Montreal, Nov. 29—An old pensioner named John Leslie hanged himself to-night.

Toronto, Nov. 29—The Chief of Police has received a cablegram from the commissioner of the metropolitan police of London stating that an officer would leave for Canada to-morrow with Barnett to surrender him on the charge of being implicated in the wrecking of the Central Bank.

The Ontario Legislature will probably meet on the 24th January.

St. Thomas, Nov. 29—Stephen Shilley, farmer, who lived a few miles from this city, was burned to death in his house last night.

NEW WESTMINSTER NEWS.

Coercing His Son to Commit Perjury—The Railway.

(Special to THE TIMES.)

New Westminster, Nov. 29—In the police court this morning a 16-year-old son of John H. Boanstow swore out an information against his father, accusing him of having threatened to murder him if he did not corroborate his (the father's) evidence in the case of Cooper, the negro, charged with murderous assault. After considerable deliberation the court adjourned the case until Monday, in order that the case of Cooper, charged with murderous assault on Boanstow and Quinton, be first heard.

Private dispatches from Cariboo state that $5,000 changed hands on the result of the late Cariboo-Lillooet election.

The location of the B. B. & Seattle Railway is completed to Ferndale and in a few days more it will connect with the location of the New Westminster Southern at the international boundary, at a point seven and a half miles east from Blaine.

An old jail bird named Ed. Montonee was up in the police court this morning charged with an attempt to waylay F. Crake, jeweler, when on his way from his shop to his residence last night, about midnight. Prisoner was sentenced to six months in the chain-gang.

BARKERVILLE NEWS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

There is more enthusiasm manifested over the Dominion election now pending than there has been for many days. The contest will now evidently be a close one; four of the principal polling districts have been heard from. Mr. S. A. Rogers, who had more than twice as many as either of the other candidates, is still a few ahead, with eleven districts to hear from. However, you will doubtless hear by wire of the result before this reaches the city. It is currently reported that thousands of dollars have been sent from Victoria to influence the election in favor of Mr. Barnard. A telegram was posted up in a conspicuous place showing that Mr. Barnard was pushing the railway business with both Dominion and Local Governments. A counter-blast was stuck up on the Dominion flagstaff telling voters to beware of "Murchison" letters. The best of feeling prevailed, however, and the dashing in of sleighs with their merry bells, with fresh news, was hailed with delight and more "hurrah." No one who is defeated at this election need to feel disgraced, for it is so close now that no one can tell either who will be at the head or at the foot. It now becomes plainly evident that had either Mr. Rogers or Mr. McLeese been out of the field the other would have got all of his votes, and have had an overwhelming majority, Mr. Barnard having got all that he possibly could in any case.

The Black Jack mill is in operation and will in all probability be the first to try the new works, when completed, a consummation devoutedly wished for and now confidently predicted to take place in February.

SUPREME COURT.

(Before Sir M. B. Begbie, C. J.)
WEDNESDAY, Nov. 27.

The charge of sending threatening letters was continued yesterday afternoon and evening.

Deputy Attorney-General Irving and W. J. Taylor, of Messrs. Eberts & Taylor, appeared for the prosecution. F. G. Walker defended.

R. Dunsmuir under cross-examination by Mr. Walker said he was not trying to get up a charge against Dr. Griffin; had something else to do; did not think Mr. Whyte was trying to get up a charge against the prisoner.

Mr. Walker—Do you know that Mr. Whyte had got a certain prescription that Dr. Griffin had written out for his wife, and taken it to Dr. Milne, and asked him if it was not a powerful drug?

Witness—I know that a certain prescription was put up Morrison's drug store.

Mr. Walker—Oh, it was Morison's store was it?

Witness, continuing, said that the druggist might have told him, himself. He had offered no reward for information that would lead to the conviction of the author of the threatening letters. Expected his firm would pay the detectives.

M. Lopatecki's evidence was given in the police court proceedings.

Rev. A. J. Beanlands—I am a clergyman of the Church of England. I am a tolerable Greek scholar, but know nothing of Spanish. The Greek sentence in the first letter is very difficult to translate. One literal translation would be: "Thou dost not fear lest you may be now an old man, if ye regard even this." The following part may be translated in two ways: "Because you are held in most esteem of all," or "Because you cling very closely to everything." On the 5th of August letter the postscript also is in Greek. This means: "It is necessary that the unjust man should be brought before the judges to pay the penalty." On the letter of the 14th August the postscript translated reads: "The time is short suitably to narrate the things that have been done." On comparing the originals with depositions, the witness pronounced the copy quite right. I have never been in the Orient. I should pronounce the Greek, classical Greek, with very varying degrees of accuracy. (Dr. Curtis' Greek Grammar produced). The book contains the translation of the sentence: "He who acts unjustly must be brought before the judges to be punished." I was subpoenaed as a witness for the defence this morning.

Cross examined by Mr. Walker—I think the man that wrote this Greek must have been in the habit of writing Greek. The greater part of the Greek is good, classical Greek. I could not write as good Greek myself. (In looking at the individual letters in Greek.) the letters are made in the old-fashioned way. The "thita" is made as we would be taught to make it in England. One of the "Ps" is made in a rather peculiar way. I am not sufficiently familiar with the Greek to say that it resembles a German letter. I don't know what a German "N" is like. The "K" is also somewhat unusual in its formation. I have seen Russian writing, the "K?" and "L's" in the Greek writing may be like of the Russian. I would consider the translations of the Greek on exhibits B and C an impossible translation.

To His Lordship—I would consider the words translated, "The time is too short to describe," to relate to some scrap of history. I do not recall any oracle in the words mentioned having been used in modern Grecian history when a man was desired to leave the country.

Henry Heywood was recalled and produced a letter received from Dr. Griffin; he also stated that Dr. Griffin had raised his right hand and sworn that he would either kill witness or horsewhip him if he again published articles in regard to him.

To His Lordship—He did not keep his word.

Benjamin F. Atherton's testimony for the prosecution was similar to that published in the report taken at the investigation. Under cross-examination by Mr. Walker witness said: I came to British Columbia in June of this year. Dr. Griffin offered to keep me employed and pay my bills. He gave me orders for a pair of shoes and for some paint. I subsequently have been called on to pay for both. I acted as his correspondent until the Social World closed. I was in his office off and on every day while the office was running. From June 25th or thereabouts till about August 15th. During that time was often in the office. I dug post-holes around Mr. Caton's house. I worked for a man named Millar several days. His wife did not discharge me. I worked for Mr. Sehl from August to September. I saw I wasn't needed and I went. He did not discharge me. I took the papers referred to up in the garret of the office at the corner of Yates and Broad streets. I never saw Mr. Lopatecki till I met him in the police court. Mr. Lopatecki did not come out of court and speak to me. I spoke to him. I asked him "how Greek was getting along?" He said he could not coincide with His Lordship's Greek, but it might be good Greek. (Laughter.) I don't understand Greek, I am sorry to say. I spoke to Mr. Whyte once before this case came on in the police court. I never saw Mr. Howard until after the trial in the police court. I know Dr. Griffin's writing pretty well. (Letter produced by Mr. Walker.) I should say the greater portion of this is in Dr. Griffin's handwriting.

To His Lordship—The doctor sometimes would write several distinct styles of handwriting in a single letter. I should say that this was his writing. I am not an expert in handwriting. The greater part of the handwriting looks like the handwriting of Dr. Griffin. (Several envelopes and papers produced by Mr. Walker.) I have seen that name, Rev. Donald Fraser, similarly written by Dr. Griffin. I would not swear it is Dr. Griffin's writing. I think it is. I recognize the writing on several of these as Dr. Griffin's.

The papers containing writing recognized as Dr. Griffin's by the witness were shown to the jury, and the cross-examination proceeded. I have had several conversations with Dr. Griffin about Mr. Dunsmuir. I have often heard Dr. Griffin use the word I mentioned. I have heard him call Mr. Dunsmuir by the name I mentioned twice. The other time was when the Social World office closed. Another time was shortly after I came here. The first conversation took place on Yates street when we were hunting for rooms. I don't remember where the other conversation took place. It might have been in the Windsor Hotel. I don't know. I posted the letter to Mr. Howard without a stamp. Mr. Howard never spoke to me about the letter. I presume he had to have it stamped before he got

TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

A Philanthropical Jew—City of New York Makes A Fast Trip, Etc.

Montreal, Nov. 29—The Government has received an offer from the London manager of the Orient steamship line to build three steamships, each 7500 tons, with a speed of not less than twenty knots and to carry the Canadian mails from Halifax to Plymouth in five days.

MAILS STOLEN.

Ottawa, Nov. 29—A mail bag containing registered letters, the contents of which amounted, so far as ascertained, to $500, has disappeared either from the Ottawa postoffice or while on the way here from the west. The authorities for a couple of weeks have been endeavoring to trace the thief but utterly without success.

WOMAN WINS EVERY TIME.

Ottawa, Nov. 29—Judge Ross gave judgment to-day in the interesting case of Selwyn vs. Lawyer. Miss Annie Lawyer recently graduated from the Royal College of Physicians, Kingston, and came here to practice, hanging out her sign on Sparks street. She boarded with landlord Selwyn, a well-known general agent, whose wife keeps a large boarding house. Leaving Sparks street without notice, Selwyn billed her for a month's extra rent. Miss Lawyer, who also left his boarding establishment, at once rendered a counter account for medical attendance on Mrs. Selwyn, although she would not otherwise have considered Mrs. Selwyn as a patient. Selwyn met the young girl in the street and rudely tossed the account in her face. He sued for his rent. Judge Ross allows Miss Lawyers account as a proper set off and in a long judgment dwelt on the advantage of women practising medicine. The fair plaintiff is congratulated on all hands as she is struggling for a living.

BRIGHT'S CONDITION.

London, Nov. 29—John Bright had a relapse last night. His breathing is difficult and his cough exhausting.

MRS. GOULD BETTER.

New York, Nov. 29—Mrs. Jay Gould is considerably improved this morning. Her condition, however, is still critical.

SUPPOSED TO BE SAVED.

There are rumors that the crew of the [illegible] which was wrecked off Cohasset, Mass., have been saved. The steamship was spoken during the height of the gale and was found to be abandoned. The supposition is that the crew took to the boats. On this slim foundation is built a hope that her crew of eighteen may yet be heard from.

THE SHEEHY INCIDENT.

London, Nov. 28—The Telegraph has taken up the cudgel in favor of fair dealing with members of Parliament as such, and advises Balfour to amend the treatment he has hitherto meted out to the Irish commoners. The Telegraph's strictures are undoubtedly the outcome of the Sheehy incident, since the paper expresses its belief that it would be eminently wise for the authorities to direct the policemen and jailors to respect the precincts of parliament as well as the persons of members in pursuit of their delegated duties, but there is in its article an undercurrent of sentiment that the general policy pursued by the Government towards its political opponents has not redounded to its credit or advantage.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

London, Nov. 28—Before the Parnell commission to-day Farmer Kennedy, of Castle Island, deposed that he was a member of the local branch of the National League. He had heard the word "roaster" at the meetings, but did not know its meaning. Mr. Shannon, a Dublin solicitor, who is assisting the Times' counsel, deposed that Kennedy told him that the local branch of the league had a list of "roasters" hung up in its office. "Roasting," Kennedy had explained, meant turnspits for roasting or boycotting landlords. People were forbidden to work for men whose names were on the list of "roasters."

TURKISH SEAMEN REVOLT.

Constantinople, Nov. 28—A revolt on the part of two thousand men employed on the government transports, whose time has expired, has taken place. The mutineers raked the fire from under the boilers of the transports in order to prevent them sailing until the arrears of their wages had been paid. The minister of war with great difficulty raised the money with which to pay the men and the vessels have sailed.

Apprehensions are felt in Quebec for the safety of a schooner which left for Enoulemsum on Friday last, having more than forty passengers, of whom three were women. Nothing has since been heard of them.

The Bank of Montreal has given instructions to its architects to prepare plans for fine bank buildings at Calgary to cost in the neighborhood of $25,000.

The will of the late Samuel Cozzens, chemist, was probated yesterday in Montreal. His brother Edward and E. J. Israel, the latter a nephew, are the executors. The estate is valued at $100,000, the greater part being left to charitable institutions. The testator's nephew, Frederick Cozzens, is left $1,000 and his housekeeper, Mrs. Fetherstonhaugh, an old employee of the firm, are appointed executors. The real and personal property is estimated at a quarter of a million. He leaves $5000 to the Montreal general hospital, $5000 to McGill University, $1000 to St. Paul's church, an annuity of $3000 a year to his wife and several handsome bequests to the employees of the firm of S. Greenshields.

SUCCESS IN BUSINESS.

Address to Young Men by Mr. A. C. Flummerfelt.

A very interesting address was delivered in the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening by Mr. A. C. Flummerfelt on the subject "Success in Business; How Can it be Achieved?" The speaker commenced by asking "what is success?" Webster says a man is fortunate when unusual blessings fall to his lot; prosperous when he succeeds in those things which men most desire; successful when he gains what he aims at. Thus we see a man may be successful but if his plans be badly laid he may not, for that reason, be prosperous. Success is not merely the gratification of personal ambition to accumulate wealth, stocks, bonds or real estate at the expense of principle. It is not wealth which is deserving of honor but the virtues which a man exercises in its pursuits and the self-denial so imposed. In my opinion the highest success is attained by the improvement of one's opportunities. My first employer, who after five years of service gave me a partnership in his business, had the following printed at the top of all his invoice forms: "Industry, perseverance, economy and integrity insure success." I believe in this motto; let us see what it means. Industry, says Webster, is habitual diligence in any employment. The good old book says: "The hand of the diligent maketh rich; seest thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before princes." Industry makes manhood. Some one has said: "If you have genius industry will develop it, if not, industry will supply its place." Industry is one of the conditions of physical strength and long life; sloth rusts more than labor wears. Of perseverance Webster says: "It is persistance in anything undertaken at all costs; if it tries every power of your being it also develops and brings to the surface what kind of stuff a man is made of. Power belongs only to the workers. The industrious persevering men are the rulers of the world. Perseverance accomplishes everything. Economy, Swift says, "I have no other notion economy than that it is the parent to liberty and ease." Senator McDonald, one of Canada's merchant princes says, "statistics prove that 97 per cent of the men who engage in business fail." Why do they fail? I believe one and perhaps the chief reason is that they do not economise. Integrity. "The moral grandeur of independent integrity is the sublimest thing in nature," says Buckminister. Integrity is the foundation of all that is high in character among mankind; other qualities may add to its splendor but if this essential is wanting all their lustre fails. In affairs of life or in business it is not intellect that tells so much as character, it has so much mind as heart, not genius so much as self control. Character is the individual's capital; character is the nation's capital. The speaker after dwelling for some time on the subject of integrity, concluded by pointing out to his young hearers that the world is eager to thrust her richest gifts upon men of character. People in every rank and walk of life are seeking for their office bearers, men who are not for sale, men whose principles are worth more than gold, who hold honor dearer than life. How and for what were his hearers living? God's law is the path which the highest wisdom in the universe has marked out as the way to success. In conclusion character was success.

SEND SOME TO VICTORIA.

How San Francisco is Being Supplied with Domestic Help.

The Chronicle says: Mrs. Mary Parker, the British philanthropist, whose work has lately been directed towards America, sent out a carload of English girls last year to find places to work in California. At first these girls could not find any positions good enough for them, but they gradually assimilated with American domestics and are said to have made first-class servants. Mrs. Parker, it seems, was not entirely satisfied with the reception of her girls, and this year she has gathered another party whom she accompanies in person. This party numbers thirty females, all bound for San Francisco. They have a car to themselves and are coming over the Canadian Pacific Railway, having left Quebec on the 7th instant. They are due here to-morrow. The Southern Pacific Company has sent a tourist car up the road for their conveyance from Portland to this city. At the employment bureaus the opinion is expressed that the girls will have no difficulty in getting work if they are not too fastidious in their selection of occupations. Mrs. Parker is doing this work with her own money, and it is reported that she even pays the fares of the girls from Liverpool to this city. She was lately in communication with persons in this city, trying to get a market for her labor, and undertaking to interest persons in need of female help to the extent of advancing money for the fares of those whom she desired to send here. The attempt was futile, however, for although help was needed badly enough it could be obtained cheaper at home than by sending to England and preparing charges all the way from Liverpool.

JACK THE RIPPER.

The Small Boy Emulating his Methods.

London, Nov. 28—A boy named Anubland, aged 11 years, who was the first to give notice of the discovery of the body of the boy Searl, who was found dying in the streets yesterday morning, with his throat cut from ear to ear, has been arrested for murder. The crime was undoubtedly committed in imitation of "Jack the Ripper," chronicles of whose butcheries have incited depraved youth in many parts of the kingdom to the emulation of his deeds, the police throughout the country are thus confronted with a new problem. The Spitalfield's vigilance committee, organized to aid the constabulary in detecting the Whitechapel murderer, and preventing further crimes, have received the approval of the police in their appointment of men who sight to watch the haunts and alleys of the east end, and otherwise aid and supplement the metropolitan force.

ANNEXATION SENTIMENT.

The Montreal Star in a recent article on the spread of an annexation sentiment in Canada, throws all the blame for its growth in the Dominion on the shoulders of the professional politicians. That our public men in the east and the west sacrifice patriotism to self aggrandizement there can be no question. We have evidence enough in this province of the truth of this assertion. Our province is still practically a wilderness; the Island of Vancouver is a one man's land. The Star calls for the filling up of the Northwest, and a possible scheme of Imperial federation. We once had a meeting in Victoria for the advocacy of the latter, but the scheme has been allowed to drop to the ground, at least as far as the public are concerned. The public domain in the Northwest has been parcelled out largely to colonization companies and speculators. That we must have a radical, not to say revolutionary, change in the policy of the government as well as in the land laws of the province, will be easily seen by an impartial observer if the annexation sentiment is to be nipped in the bud. We require more patriotic sentiment and if it cannot be nurtured in any other way the Imperial federation league ought to exert itself in making the Canadians first and Imperialists afterwards.

CREATION OF A COLONIAL EMPIRE.

The acquisition of colonial possessions is not so easy or so expeditious as that of conquering by the march of solid battalions. This the German Empire has just found out in its late experience in East Africa. They are infants at bushwhacking warfare, or the diplomacy of trade, and now see that they have reached a very serious crisis in the era of colonial enterprises. There is, consequently, a great deal of uneasy and excited reasoning on the subject. They find that what would be successful on a European battlefield, or in the sphere of diplomacy, will avail but little with savage nations, and that the carrying out of a colonial policy is not the holiday adventure at first supposed. There is an infinity of trouble and difficulty to be surmounted before they will reap any benefit. With the stolid character of the nation they have braced themselves up to face the difficulties before them, and declare that a parcel of savages shall not be permitted to nip the colonial enterprise of Germany in the bud. They have had a lesson administered to them which gives them additional incentive to carry out their scheme. The Colonial Empire of England was built up to its present magnificent proportions by the expenditure of blood and treasure. Profiting by an experience dearly bought, the dogged perseverance of our race has planted the flag of empire wherever a keel can glide, or a foot can travel. The colonial policy of England was an enigma to the great NAPOLEON; he vainly endeavored to imitate it, and failed. Less ambitious minds should take example and endeavor to follow the policy of a nation which has founded a colonial Empire, the grandest and most magnificent the world has ever seen.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous. *

CARIBOO ELECTION.

The Candidates for the Local Legislature Expound their Views.

Both are Government Men—Their Respective Platforms.

[From our own Correspondent.]

A meeting was called by Messrs. A. Barlow and I. B. Nason, candidates for the vacant seats in the local house, to give their views. Mr. George Cowan was voted to the chair and A. Dodges appointed secretary.

Mr. Barlow was called on. He said he had great pleasure in meeting the electors of Barkerville. He had been asked if he would come out if Mr. McLeese resigned. The farmers and voters had pressed him to come out; therefore he consented. He considered his interests as being identical with those he aspired to represent. It might be thought he was conceited in offering himself, but a little of that was necessary in a public man. It had been said that he was not interested in mining. He would tell them how much he was interested. He had spent $13,500 in prospecting and he had not received a dividend as yet, but he had still confidence in the mines. He would take up the subjects he intended to speak on in the following order: Roads, trails, railways, mining interests. He advocated a trail from Quesnelle to Omineca, so that pack trains could go in; it would be better for the farmers and encourage miners. He had been called on by the farmers to do so. He would also advocate a trail or sleigh road on the west side of the Fraser, so that settlers there could bring their farm produce to Quesnelle or Cariboo. He assured his hearers that there was lots of land for hundreds of settlers. The state of the Grand Trunk road was a disgrace to the country. The road was impassable in spring and in fall, but passable when nature gave us good roads. The work was not done as it should be. He did not blame the superintendent or the men on the roads. He proceeded to explain that roads to stand, should have the material taken from the sides and thrown into the centre, so as to leave them high in the middle, but if there was a hole in the road they filled it with clay and sand and it was worse than ever. He had been obliged to get out of the stage as the horses could not pull the empty coach through. He might be asked, "Where was the money to come from?" but he thought if the repairs were done in a substantial manner it would not cost any more than as at present, and any way the people of Cariboo were entitled to it. Cariboo had been as great a benefit to the whole country as any district in it. He was in favor of a railway conditionally, but not in such a way as to conflict with the interests of the miners. There was a difference of opinion as to the proper route. He would not be in favor of giving away the mineral lands. His platform was the district of Cariboo, the interests of the whole district. Many things the Government had done that were not satisfactory, but on the whole he would support the existing Government. The opposition did not amount to much; in fact it was very weak and he thought if he had proclaimed himself a supporter of them he would ask to stay at home for he would be left. The miners knew about some things much better than he did, but if elected he would be happy to hear from his constituents on any question. There was the real estate business; he had been spoken to about that, and could only say that a mining board should be established, and they should make representations to the Government as occasion required. His remarks elicited some applause.

Mr. I. B. Nason was now called on, and received with applause. He said he had much pleasure in meeting the ladies and gentlemen before him. He would tell them a little of his history. He was born and raised in Maine, but since living here he had always had a great respect for the Queen and Government. He had become a naturalized citizen and if given a chance would prove that he had their interests at heart. He had come out because he had been handed a numerously signed requisition. It was true that the lower portion of the district was entitled to representation, but he thought that Mr. Barlow was no more a lower country representative than he was himself; but he thought a man could just as honestly represent the whole district no matter where he resided. He had been a resident for 30 years and had taken a hand before in elections. He might mention the election of A. E. B. Davie both at first and when he was defeated. He would be proud to serve under Davie as leader. He was a personal friend of his and he hoped to have a seat beside him. He had no thought at one time of coming out, but now he was out he didn't want to be defeated. He knew of no wrong that the government had done, and would give them his support as long as he thought they were right. He was greatly in favor of railway construction, as that was what was wanted to develop the country. That was the only means of placing us in our proper position as a first class mining region, one of the best mining regions in the world. Things would be much cheaper and if we didn't have a railway to develop the wealth that was here we should all die off. He would therefore use his utmost endeavors for the construction of a railway; it would benefit everybody, farmers and miners. He was in favor of roads being repaired as long as we depended on them for the transport of our necessaries of life, but he would never relax his endeavors till we had a railway. There was a great portion of land lying vacant, lying waste, that would pay if opened up by railway. He could not see why a company should not get the vacant land; it would be no disadvantage to mining enterprise. Miners could buy from a company as well as from the government, and a company would expect to get the unoccupied land and he would be in favor of giving it and almost any inducement so as to have it built. He didn't say he could do all this, but he would try. He thanked the chairman, ladies and gentlemen for the patient hearing accorded him and retired amid applause.

Mr. Barlow created a bit of a breeze by misquoting (probably from having misunderstood) the remarks of Mr. Nason, but the matter being satisfactorily explained a motion of thanks to chairman and secretary closed the proceedings.

MOTIONS.

Ald. Braden moved that a detailed statement of the cost of the electric light plant and machinery for the year 1888 be prepared and submitted to the Council.

Ald. Braden said the light was so unsatisfactory and the cost so large that it would be of interest to know the exact cost.

Ald. Vigelius said he would support the motion provided a statement was prepared to show the cost of the plant, and running expenses during the year 1887.

Ald. Harris would like to have a statement showing the value of the plant.

Ald. Braden did not see how the cost of the plant would assist in arriving at the cost of running the electric light. The light at present was in a miserable state and to-night people are running around with lanterns. The cost of maintaining the light this year amounted to $18,000.

Ald. Coughlan—It cost less than $12,000.

The motion was amended as suggested by Ald. Vigelius and Ald. Harris.

From the Hall Committee reporting that a new stove should be purchased for the City Hall. Adopted.

Ald. Powell moved that the City Clerk furnish bonds to the amount of $2000. Seconded by Ald. Coughlan. Carried.

His Worship said the Clerk asked to be allowed to furnish bonds and suggested bondsmen who were considered most satisfactory by the Mayor and the Council.

The Street Committee reported recommending certain improvements throughout the city. Report adopted.

Ald. Styles said the City Surveyor required assistance to prepare plans of grades.

Ald. Harris stated that the City Surveyor would have a month to prepare the plans and it was not necessary to furnish assistance as there is not much outside work going on.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Ald. Harris said before moving the adoption of the agreement with J. D. Warren and his associates, he would move an amendment which would permit the company to correct fares on the street cars. This was omitted in the agreement.

His Worship said he did not know whether the Council was empowered to insert the amount to be collected as fares. This should be done by the Legislative Assembly. It would be necessary to prepare a private bill.

At the suggestion of His Worship the matter was referred to the City Barristers.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Ald. Vigelius said the Library Committee reported that a suitable place was secured at the corner of Fort and Wharf streets at $30 per month. The Alderman had no objection to renting the place from month to month; but he would strongly object to a lease for five years; he noticed a lease drawn up in the City Hall to take this building for that period; this was very wrong because the Council has not the power to lease a building for five years; it would not be very long before an addition would be built to the City Hall; there was another question regarding a librarian. The Committee, so it is reported, secured a stranger to fill this office; this he would oppose most strenuously. There are other old citizens who are paying taxes in this city and they should be considered before utter strangers. Applause.

Ald. Kelly coincided with Ald. Vigelius and considered that utter strangers were appointed to offices whilst people residing here for years and young men growing up are compelled to leave the country to secure situations.

Ald. Coughlan thought the two previous speakers were altogether mistaken. The Library Committee did not select a Librarian and had not leased the building the Aldermen should be more careful and make enquirers before stating things which were not substantially correct.

Ald. Harris said that no Librarian had been appointed. All that had been done was to request Dr. McGregor to aid them in the selection of the books from the catalogue, which he had done without charge to the city. He thought that it was a poor way in which to treat the Committee to throw out these insinuations, such as had been done by Ald. Vigelius. If Aldermen would remain until the end of the Council meetings they would learn more of the business transacted. Dr. McGregor had not been appointed and the lease had been prepared by the City Barrister under his direction and was to be brought before the Council to-night. Five years, one year or months could be inserted.

Ald. Vigelius said he was prepared to prove that a lease was drawn up and ready for the Corporation seal. He could call on the City Clerk to bear out his statement that a lease was ready in his office by which the Corporation would be bound to take the building referred to for a term of five years at a rental of $30 per month.

VOTERS' LIST.

Ald. Braden would like to see a voting list placed within the reach of all persons wishing to find out whether they are entitled to a vote.

His Worship said a person paying his taxes and neglecting to pay his license would not be eligible as a voter. All taxes must be paid and all licenses as well. A man paying $1 for a license to carry on business is entitled to a vote. This man can also vote if he owes $15 for water. A citizen owning thousands of dollars' worth of property cannot vote if he owes any sum for water. This law should be amended at the next meeting of the Legislature.

The Clerk suggested that the person preparing the voters' list be allowed to consult with the City Barrister in order that no trouble shall occur on the day of election.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Ald. Harris moved, seconded by Ald. Vigelius, that applications be received until next Wednesday night for the position of librarian at a salary of $50 per month. Carried.

Ald. Harris moved, seconded by Ald. Styles, that the Mayor and City Clerk be instructed to sign a lease for the building at the corner of Fort and Wharf street for five years.

Ald. Wilson said he coincided with Ald. Vigelius and would oppose a lease for five years. It would be wrong to bind an incoming Council for five years.

Ald. Wilson moved an amendment that the lease be drawn up for one year. Seconded by Ald. Vigelius.

Ald. Braden opposed a five years lease. The city would require a very large library in that time.

The amendment to lease the building for one year was carried.

His Worship considered that the Council should attend to the consolidated by-laws before the end of the year.

Ald. Coughlan moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson, that the work of opening trenches for the 16 inch main be proceeded with at once.

Ald. Coughlan explained that the Albion Iron Works had nothing to do with the trenches. The contract provided that the city was to dig the trenches and fill them in when the pipe was laid.

Ald. Vigelius hoped the work would be done by day labor, so as to provide work for many poor men during the winter.

The City Clerk here read a bill from the Albion Iron Works for $18,648.

The Mayor said this sum was part of the agreement between the Albion Iron Works and the city, as the first instalment of 45 per cent. on the material.

Referred to the Water Committee and Finance Committee.

Ald. Styles said as the payment of this money was part of the agreement, the bill should be paid at once, as the conditions had been fulfilled. Carried.

The Clerk reported that he had received several applications for the position of engineer at the electric light works.

The selection of an engineer was left over for one week, and in the meantime applications were to be invited for the position.

Council then adjourned.

"Cermen Sylva," the poetic Queen of Roumania, is having a poetic room built into which she will invite the Muse. This room will be lined with reeds and surrounded by a high hedge of roses. Cages of singing-birds will be concealed among the roses, and a fountain of perfumed water will play in a corner of the room. No prosaic desk with revolving top and myriads of pigeon holes will mar the beauty of this room. The poetess will sit upon one moss-grown rock, while she leans her elbow on another and indites sonnets to the moon. It is not said what her Majesty will substitute for pen, ink, and paper, but it might be suggested that a pen made from the wing of a humming-bird be dipped in violet ink, while the virgin leaf of a white lily serves for paper.

The report was adopted and tenders will be called for in a few days.

Meaning of Okanogan.

The English meaning of the Indian word Okanikane, or Okanogan as it is now spelled, is "rendezvous," and was given to the head of the Okanogan river, where it takes its source in the lake of the same name. It is here the Indians from all parts of the territory, British Columbia and even Alaska, met for the annual potlatch, even to this day, and lay in their supply of fish and game. The word Sooyos, which has been corrupted to O'Sooyos, means "narrows," and here there are the grandest fishing grounds in the Pacific northwest.

Lange & Co.'s Guessing Match.

Four valuable prizes, consisting of two Gold Watches, one Silver Tea Set and Tray and one Diamond Ring will be given away. For every $5 in cash invested in a purchase in our store from this date to the 1st January, 1889, the purchaser will be entitled to one chance in the above guessing match. We have made the mistake in overstocking ourselves this season in every branch in the jewelry line, fine goods particularly, and have chosen this method to turn them into cash regardless of profits, giving our customers the above advantage in return. Notice of the distribution of the above prizes will be given.

Voters Disfranchised.

During the voting to-day for a school trustee in Johnson street ward it transpired that the names of voters were—whether intentionally or not, we are unable to say—omitted from the list and so disfranchised. Among others ex-Mayor Fell and Messrs. Green, Pendray and Kirsup were thus deprived of votes, although most of them have voted in Johnson street ward for school trustees. The list, we are informed, was prepared in the education department and under the eye of the government. The officials are no doubt innocent of any intention to "cook" the voters' list, but the fact that so many names were omitted calls for explanation. Will we have it?

School Trustee Election.

At 10 o'clock this morning polls opened at the City Hall for the purpose of electing a school trustee in Johnson Street Ward to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. B. Ferguson. The candidates, Messrs. Erskine, Jessop and Rudge took a lively interest in the election and, although a lack of interest was manifested by the majority of voters in the ward, the vote polled was above the average. At four o'clock the returning officer closed the polls and counted the votes. The result was as follows:—

R. Erskine	76
John Jessop	46
Henry Rudge	11
Total vote cast	133

Investigation.

The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department sent a communication to the City Council last evening calling for an investigation into the charges against the Fire Department contained in an article in Wednesday's Colonist. The article referred to reads as follows: "Where were the firemen. An endeavor was made last evening through the telephone to call up the Yates street fire station, but without success, after the bell had been kept ringing fifteen or twenty minutes. Where were the firemen and what would have happened if a fire alarm had been rung? Discipline seems to be at a discount at the fire station." The Chief Engineer calls for the investigation to prove "where the firemen were" and disprove the statement that there is a lack of discipline in the fire department. The request was granted and the fire wardens will hold an investigation to-morrow evening at the City Hall.

it from the postoffice. I first met Mr. Dunsmuir to speak to him in the office. I went to him for Dr. Griffin. No one was present when I wrote the Spanish words at Dr. Griffin's dictation. I never told anyone that I intended to get even with him. I have told Mr. McDonald and Mr. Sehl that I intended to get even with him from a money point of view. I never told Mr. John Hilbert that Dr. Griffin swindled me out of $15,000. I never mentioned $15,000 in connection with Dr. Griffin. I have mentioned money matters to him, but never the sum of $15,000. It was in the Social World office at the corner of Broad and Yates streets that I saw Dr. Griffin take certain papers from his pocket. I received no money or promise of money for getting papers in this case. I got them by request of Mr. Cornell, of Mahoney's Detective Agency of San Francisco. I do not see Mr. Cornell in court nor do I know if he is here. Dr. Griffin made a peculiar capital M when he wished to disguise his writing. I have had a good many letters from him. The letters to me are at Los Angeles.

Mr. Tayler—There are two exhibits that have not been sent up from the police court—a stylographic pen and a drawing of the black hand," (producing exhibits 14 to 25). Are these in Dr. Griffin's handwriting.

Witness—They are. (Stylographic pen and penholder claimed to be missing, produced and identified by the witness as the one belonging to Dr. Griffin).

Mr. Taylor—There is still one exhibit that we are unable to find. It was a drawing of a black hand that was lost while in evidence at the police court. We will prove the loss of the document, my lord, and then the witness can give evidence in regard to the contents of the document. The document was very small and could easily be lost among the quantity of documents in exhibit. We propose to prove its loss by putting the clerk of the police court in the box. The registrar says that the scrap of paper wanted, never came into court.

His Lordship referred to the imputation that the witness was an ungrateful servant, first of Dr. Griffin and then the bribee of some one from San Francisco.

Mr. Atherton, to His Lordship, said that he knew a gentleman calling himself Mr. Cornell. He (Mr. Cornell) asked him to get certain papers with Dr. Griffin's writing for him to compare with certain writing. Dr. Griffin introduced me to a number of people, but got me no employment. The witness left the box, subject to recall if the scrap of paper, now lost, could be found, or proved to have an existence.

Mr. J. A. Cohen was examined at the conclusion of Atherton's evidence.

William Whyte's testimony has been already published. In reply to the learned counsel for the defense witness said: I have not tried to get up another charge against Dr. Griffin. I have made inquiries in regard to prescriptions of Dr. Griffin's. I don't remember asking Dr. Milne any questions in regard to a prescription without mentioning Dr. Griffin's name. I asked if one ounce of opium or laudanum was a large dose in a prescription. He said it depended on the case. I was acting under no instructions, merely from curiosity. It was a prescription of Dr. Griffin's I saw in Morrison's drug store. I have enquired about Dr. Griffin's record in the east. I have tried to find out who was sending the threateging letters to my employer. I went to Mr. Sehl for a specimen of Mr. Atherton's handwriting. I asked him for his own opinion of Mr. Atherton's character. He said he did not care to give it. I went to Mr. Waitt's and asked if he knew if Dr. Griffin had ever purchased that particular kind of paper. Mr. Waitt did not say at any time that he had never sold similar paper to Dr. Griffin. He did say I was a fool to connect Dr. Griffin's name with the business. I attempted in the police court to identify the writing on these letters. I said I had come to the conclusion that they were written by Griffin, on comparing the letters with other exhibits. I think I first came to the conclusion that the letters were written by Dr. Griffin on the 4th, 5th or 6th of August.

To Mr. Irving—What I mean to say is that my comparison of writing recently led to the confirmation of my suspicion that Dr. Griffin wrote the letters. I am not in a position at present to state the result of my enquiries in regard to Dr. Griffin's career in the east. I first saw a young man in Mr. Waitt's. I then saw Mr. Waitt and looked through Dr. Griffin's account in the books. Found no paper similar to that on exhibit charged in the books. Then enquired if they had sold Dr. Griffin any paper not charged in the books. I saw prescriptions in Dr. Morison's store, drawn by Dr. Griffin. One called for an ounce of laudanum, and the other, I think, three drachms of opium. Mr. Langley, in Dr. Morison's store, said that if the prescriptions were used as a lotion they should be largely diluted. It was not to work up a second case against Dr. Griffin that I went to Dr. Milne. I saw Dr. Griffin arrested, and he then seemed very anxious to enter the store, so I entered to try and ascertain why he was so anxious to go in.

James Smith, called—My name is James A. Smith. I have been a clerk in the post office for the past two years. In August I was instructed to watch the drop box in the post office, and give a signal when any letters were posted addressed in a similar manner to one given me. On the 5th of August I was sitting close to the box and was going to blow a policeman's whistle when any letter addressed as I was told to look for was posted. While I was sitting there Dr. Griffin entered by the private door, through which the public are only entitled to enter by courtesy. We generally allow newspaper men to enter by the back door after seven o'clock. I couldn't say whether or not Dr. Griffin was recognized as a newspaper man. He couldn't help seeing me.

Cross-examined by Mr. Walker—I remained at the work four or five days. There were no letters addressed in the style I had been instructed to watch for posted during that time.

John Langley, sworn—Remember being in front of the postoffice on the night of the 6th or 7th of August. I was stationed to watch all persons mailing letters, on a signal from inside. I was across the street and saw Dr. Griffin enter the postoffice on the second night of my watch.

H. L. Brauthaver, called—I am a member of Mahoney's detective agency of San Francisco. Have been in this city for eleven weeks. I was sent here by the manager of our agency to examine into the sending of some threatening letters to Mr. Dunsmuir. Received the letter marked exhibit H about the 11th October. When I received the letter it had a stamp on it. I was notified to call at the inspector's office and leave a one cent stamp and a letter would be forwarded to my address. I did so and got the letter about the 14th October. One post mark on the envelope was October 12th. The other post mark is indistinct.

The court then adjourned until 11 o'clock this morning.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The charge against Dr. Griffin was resumed in the Supreme Court at 10 o'clock this morning.

Dr. McGregor, deposed: I had a conversation with Dr. Griffin in his temporary office. Saw several dictionaries on the table. Dr. Griffin began the conversation by giving an account of his travels and mentioned that he knew a number of persons well known to witness. Did not know whether there were any Greek or Spanish books on the table.

Sergt. J. W. Walker said he arrested prisoner and took the books produced from his person when he was arrested, also the papers produced.

His Lordship—Counsel for the defense should have had an opportunity to examine the books produced.

Mr. Taylor said he intended to call Mr. Dowler to prove that one of the documents had been lost. Mr. Dowler was absent and a carriage had been sent for him.

Atherton, re-called—I recognize the documents produced; they are in Dr. Griffin's handwriting. I recognize them all.

To Mr. Walker—I was not driving the waggon for Mr. Sehl when I posted the letter for Mr. Howard.

To His Lordship—I was reading the papers and saw that the statement made in the police court was not taken down correctly.

His Lordship—The evidence was read over to you at the police court.

Atherton—Yes; but I did not understand it at the time.

His Lordship—When did you find out that the evidence was not taken down correctly?

Witness—I found it out next morning and asked Mr. Taylor to allow me to explain.

His Lordship—Mr. Walker has given you the opportunity.

Henry P. Hyde, sworn—I am an attorney-at-law in the Supreme Court of San Francisco, and an expert in handwriting; I have been in the business of inspecting handwriting for the past 30 years, and for several years I have been an expert in handwriting; one of the laws of science is that no two men can write the same hand and no man can change his handwriting without leaving traces of his old hand; the thousand different forms in handwriting is characteristic of the man; the hand moves mechanically, not automatically, and is not subject to the will; when a man's mind is fully on the work before him a slight difference can be made. I know the characteristics of men and I sum them up. In a feigned hand the writer tries to get out of his personality; in an anonymous letter this is done; sometimes the writer cannot get out of his character. Almost of necessity a man lapses into his old hand even when he starts out by writing under a feigned hand; I examined a large number of letters; I commenced working on these letters on Monday and continued the examination day and night; I was aided with powerful glasses. [The witness then produced his microscope and explained its use to the jury.] There are numerous instances where there is no type found in the letters; but I have found also numerous writings made by the prisoner; my plan is to make myself familiar with genuine writing and then I study until quite familiar with its characteristics; I then take the anonymous letters and prove the authorship. I made drawings of Dr. Griffin's genuine writing, also of the disputed writing; the art of making these tracings are well known to nearly all persons acquainted with the microscope; all persons acquainted with the microscope cannot make the drawings; there is an unconscious way of writing which I know every man is subject to. Some men cannot swear to their writing from day to day, but the characteristics are there; I examined the six letters and will say that they were written by the same hand; I will say nothing about the Greek characters; I have not had time to look at the Greek characters; of the writing produced in blue pencil I will not give an opinion, although I recognize the same characteristics as was seen in the letters produced, on the front page of a paper called the Social World I see the words Hon. Robert Dunsmuir, written with blue pencil in a bold hand; there are several characteristics in this writing resembling the writing on an envelope which contained an anonymous letter addressed to Hon. R Dunsmuir on August 14th last. The letters are of the same character; the letter "R" on both exhibits are similar; the resemblance in the "Robert" on the Social World and the "Robert" on the envelope containing the anonymous letter is almost perfect. My opinion is that the writer of the letters produced and signed by Dr. Griffin and the writer of the anonymous letters is one and the same person; also the letter to Mr. Howard; the piece of paper which was taken from prisoner when he was arrested and produced in court was written by prisoner and is in the same hand as the anonymous letters sent Mr. Dunsmuir and Mr. Howard.

H. W. Lawrence and Allen C. Mason, of Tacoma, are interested. Mr. Lawrence said that a company had been formed, comprising Allan C. Mason as president, himself as vice-president, and Charles S. Reeves as secretary and treasurer, which proposed to investigate, with dollars and cents, the value of the mines within their control. In the first place 1000 feet will be sunk on the Lone Star, and Mr. Lawrence has gone to Butte to obtain the necessary machinery.
